

After All That It's Come To This
By Amos the Transparent

Ebmaj7

she packed up her bags and she's heading out

there's got to be good reason for these dead air phone calls

We're moving up slow, it don't seem so steady

There's no need for big plans, I'll be here when you're ready

You know the world doesn't move the way you want sometimes

I kept a close distance but you kept me behind

So when are you gonna find what it is?

When are you gonna feel the need to resist?

When are you gonna fear the world?

Are you gonna be here when I return?

Stand up for what it is

Would you stand up for yourself 'cause we're growing up fast and you've gotta believe in it
